

GRANITE PEAK

The highest skiable mountain in the state, boasting the second highest vertical in the whole of the Midwest!

Granite Peak (formerly Rib Mountain) lies in the centre of Wisconsin, next to the town of Wausau and is the highest skiable mountain in the state. It also boasts the second highest vertical in the whole of the Midwest. The area has seen huge investment in recent years and now boasts some world class facilities. These include 74 nicely groomed runs, 4 awesome terrain parks with lots of rails and big jumps, 8 lifts and a new High Speed six person chair.

There's also an impressive 11,000 sq.ft. base lodge with a demo shop, rental shop, gift shop and tuning centre. The area has 100 percent snowmaking and grooming, and offers skiers and snowboarders a spectacular view of the city lights whilst night skiing which is available every evening from Monday through to Saturday. Granite Peak Ski School is known for its highly trained instructors and all visitors receive a friendly Midwest welcome from all mountain staff.
