

JASPER

Amazing natural beauty and famous mountain hospitality

Jasper in Alberta, Canada is known as the little town in the very big Jasper National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. This is one of the last unspoilt places on earth and a uniquely scenic spot in the very heart of the Canadian Rockies.

Picture a quiet and unspoilt town surrounded by awesome, inspiring peaks and you have Jasper! Part of the huge UNESCO World Heritage site National Park Alberta, it exudes a natural beauty which most modern ski venues lack. Where else does the wildlife wander around town or a lazy freight train drift gently by, virtually unnoticed. This is the Canada that is recognised worldwide, majestic natural beauty on a grand scale, even the drive from Calgary via the famous Columbia Ice Fields just has to be experienced, if only once in a lifetime. The ski area is Marmot Basin, just 20 minutes drive from town, which has everything school groups need, uncrowded slopes, dry powder snow, a lift system designed to give an easy option off every lift exit so the beginner can move anywhere on the mountain without fear, and probably one of the best ski schools in the world. Facilities are modern and efficient for both equipment and on-mountain food and the staff of this resort are ultra friendly and considerate, their sole aim is to ensure that every school group going to Jasper will never forget the experience!
